DESCRIPTION OF THE RESEARCH FIELDS

- In the Social Ethics field, he investigates about the present relevance of the Franciscan philosophical and theological tradition in order to help humanizing the globalized society through Justice, Peace and the Integrity of Creation. More precisely, he tries to formulate a global ethic and an integral ecology in the perspective of the Voluntarism of the Franciscan School of thought.

- In the field of Communication Ethics, he studies the relationship between public and private realms in human life and in social networks. More specifically, he investigates on the ethical challenges of the new digital Age and on the journalistic deontology regarding informational privacy.
